Special Correspondence
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., June 21.—Members of the summer colony are co-operating with the village committee, of which James B. Hurley is chairman, in an effort to make of Venetian Night an event long to be remembered in the annals of the North Woods. Venetian Night will be on July 4, and will mark the conclusion of the celebration of two days, July 3 and 4, during which Essex County will welcome home returned soldiers, sailors, marines and war workers. Great searchlights ranged about the shores of the lake will throw a flood of light over the scores of the gayly decorated motor boats and floats that will pass in review.

Arrangements for another spectacular feature of the celebration, the first airplane flight over the Adirondacks, were completed this week and Lieutenant P. Melville, who has been here in conference with Lieutenant F. Paul Stevens, formerly of the seaplane service of the navy and chairman of the committee in charge of this event, has returned to Hazlehurst Field, Mineola.

Because of the celebration many of the cottagers of other seasons in camps, cottages and at the hotels are advancing the date of their coming. Early arrivals at the Grand View Hotel will include J. P. Conroy, assistant superintendent of schools in New York, and Mrs. Conroy; A. J. Demarest, superintendent of education, Bayonne, N. J.; Keenan McNally, A. F. Pinto and J. P. New London Filled
By Boat Race Crowds

Special Correspondence
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—The first week of the summer season at the Griswold had all the appearance of midseason. Eastern Point is never so lively as at this time of the year, and it was especially so this June with the revival of the boat races, which never fails to attract a large crowd. The demands for accommodation at the Griswold were enormous and the hotel was taxed to capacity.

In the early part of the week the American Electrical Association came two hundred and fifty strong and mixed golf, tennis and bathing with a business meeting which took up the greater part of two days. They had scarcely left when the advance guard of the boat race enthusiasts appeared. This of course added considerably to the picture, as college events usually do. It was like old times. The headquarters for the Yale and Harvard followers were the Griswold, where they could get a touch with the sea life around the hotel in the evening.

Golf has never been so popular as this season at the Sheneossett Country Club, only a short distance from the hotel grounds. Tennis, too, got an early start, and the bathing, which depends mostly on the weather, has continued uninterrupted since the hotel opened.

Point Pleasant Season

Special Correspondence
POINT PLEASANT, June 21.—The return of cottagers and hotel patrons like this week started Point Pleasant's summer activities. Both of the hotels observed their openings with the customary dances of welcome.

Musicals will again form an important part of the season's schedule of events. The Carrollton Hotel will probably be the place designated. Card parties and numerous balls of an elaborate nature are being planned for both the Carrollton and the Pine Bluff Inn.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., June 21.—In contrast to the last four seasons are the prospects for a gay social life this summer at the Pier. Many of the villa colony have been here since Memorial Day. The Casino, always the centre for dances, dinner parties and jolly luncheons after the bathing hour, was closed for the duration of the war. It will reopen July 4 with a ball and buffet supper. Talbot Hanan will, as formerly, have charge of all balls, concerts and large entertainments. Francois Gojia, of the Palm Beach Country Club, will be the manager this season.

The Point Judith Country Club is open for golf and tennis matches, and there will be a revival of the daily afternoon teas soon.

Mrs. Samuel H. Valentine closed her town house, 5 East Sixty-seventh Street, New York, and opened Valmore on the Rocks last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Thatcher, of New York, have been at their place in Wakefield since early in May. Mrs. S. Hinman Bird and children, of New York, arrived last week to spend the summer with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hitchcock, who opened Hope-well in May.

Mrs. Henry Brevoort Kane and Miss Florence Kane, of Manhattan, were among the earliest cottagers to arrive. Captain Kane will return from France in August.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hanan spent last week at We Two, arriving in their yacht Editha. They have opened Castledown, their Newport place, but will spend much time here.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Snowden, of New York, have opened Hazard's Castle, unoccupied for some time. Mrs. Snowden recently returned from two years' Red Cross work in France.
